

Learn all about how veterinarians do their job and how they help their animal patients! Students will “adopt” their own pet and learn about responsible pet ownership, routine medical care, recognizing signs of illness, and all the other fun, gross, weird and amazing things veterinarians encounter while doing their jobs.

*** New topics each quarter! *****

Students will use their science, math, and critical thinking skills to learn about what makes animals sick, how animal bodies work, and the skills and tools vets use to care for animals. Hands-on demonstrations, class problem solving, models, and brief educational videos highlight new topics each trimester. Live dog guests will visit us in class to help us practice what we’ve learned!

Mondays, 2:30-3:30
Sep 28 - Nov 9
 (no class Oct 26 - conferences)
Proctor Terrace School
$110, 6 weeks
Grades 2-6

Instructor: Dr. Pam Wittenberg has over 25 years of experience in the field of veterinary medicine. When she's not teaching kids about animals and science, she works as a veterinarian at Four Seasons Animal Hospital in the East Bay, and teaches in the Veterinary Technology Program at Santa Rosa Junior College.
